"The Turkish Baths are health-giving and contribute to cleanliness, which is next to godliness."—Christian Register.

Business Notices, &c.

Blake & Johnson is the name of a thriving corporation, now employing 35 hands in the general manufacture of machinery. Hardened cast-steel rolls, plain or engraved, are prominent among their products, which also embrace ladies' hair-pins, rivets, &c.

Brown & Brothers, whose warehouse is at 79 Chambers street, New York, are keeping 250 men busy in the production of brass, in the shape of rivets, wires, etc. Brass and copper kettles are a specialty here. They have been established 21 years, and their rolling-mill is a model of convenience and architectural design. Their capacity is 2,250,000 pounds of brass per year in ordinarily good business times.

Holmes, Booth & Haydens, established in 1853, have a large rolling mill and other factories situated near the Naugatuck Rail Road. A large capital is invested, the works are very extensive, and several hundred hands employed. Steam power is exclusively used; the largest engine being of 400 horse power. They make sheet brass, copper, German silver, gilding, platers and gold metal, plain and fancy wire and rods, of brass, copper and German silver. Tubing of plain, fancy and extra patterns, from German silver, brass, copper and zinc. Copper and brass rivets and burs, all varieties. They manufacture kerosene lamp burners in great variety and large quantity. In this branch the concern is one of the first in the business. In this department are made shade rings, globe holders, brass hand lamps, gas fixture trimmings, jack chain and other goods of this description.

In the manufacture of silver plated ware, the concern has engaged largely, and has established an excellent reputation, having been awarded a first premium medal and diploma for first quality, at a recent exhibition, by the American Institute, New York. They make their own nickel silver. A. S. Chase is president, and James M. Abbott secretary.

The American Pin Company are now employing 90 hands, and well may one inquire, "Where do all the pins go?" for this establishment turns out 16,500 papers per day. They are running 70 machines of their own design, and are full of orders. Mr. Driggs remains in the agent's chair, and Mr. Irving H. Coe is his gentlemanly clerk.

The Carrington Manufacturing Company, engaged in the manufacture of saddlery and carriage hardware, employ now 120 hands.

The Farrell Foundry and Machine Co., make at Waterbury and Ansonia all classes of rolling-mill machinery, of which chilled rolls are a special item. Rubber machines, heavy gearing, presses, and the various parts necessary to mill equipment, are among their more prominent products, on which 160 hands are engaged.

The Scovill Manufacturing Co., successors to J. M. L. & W. H. Scovill, was incorporated in 1850, with a capital of $350,000. They employ 400 hands. They are large manufacturers of sheet brass, German silver, &c. They also make metal plated with gold, silver and platina, which excels any thing of the kind made in this country. They are the oldest button-makers in the country, making all kinds of military, gilt and covered buttons. They also make brass butt hinges, piano hinges and coal-oil burners, lamps, &c.

They have a house in Boston, and another in Beekman street, New York, and at the latter place deal extensively in photographic materials of all sorts.

The Waterbury Brass Company, of which J. C. Welton is president, and J. S. Elton treasurer, and whose main warehouse is 52 Beekman street, New York, is one of the largest concerns in its line in this country. To particularize its productions would be to devote an entire paper to details, each interesting to the general reader. Rolled brass of all descriptions and its assumption of different shapes, tubes, rivets, bars, and sheets, constitute the specialty of their wares, in making which they employ 400 hands. One of their mills is 100 feet square, with wings 100 feet by 35. The other mill is 75 feet by 125, and an adjoining wing 80 by 60. This corporation was established in 1845, and united with, or rather absorbed, the American Cap and Flask Company, which makes millions of percussion caps per week. The eyelets, too, used in corsets are here turned out by the thousands of gross. This factory is 45 feet by 200, with a wing 40 by 120 feet.

The Waterbury Buckle Company make every variety of vest, pantaloons, suspender, shoe, belt and skirt buckles and general brass trimmings. They employ 100 hands, and for 13 years have been in the business.

The Waterbury Clock Company was organized as a joint stock corporation in March, 1857. Since that time their business has gradually increased to the present time. They manufacture at their factories, located at Waterbury, a large variety of Clocks and Regulators. The salesroom of the Company is at No. 4 Cortlandt St., New York, where they keep a large assortment of clocks, of both domestic and foreign manufacture. The officers are, Charles Benedict, president; H. L. Wade, secretary; M. Bailey, treas.

United States Button Co., North Main Street, established 1865; capital $100,000, manufacture brass goods in great variety, such as screws, nuts, washers, chains, skirt slides, buttons, hooks and eyes, or any article made from brass.

of Sewing Machine inventors, appear on the records of the Patent Office at Washington. As the direct result of this labor, we are able to present the Sewing Machine of to-day, with confidence in our right to entitle it
